[NOTE: The United States Patent and Trademark Office may require additional information if there is a question as to whether either the abandonment or the delay in filing a petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b) was unintentional (MPEP 711.03(c), subsections (III)(C) and (D)).]

WARNING:

Petitioner/applicant is cautioned to avoid submitting personal information in documents filed in a patent application that may contribute to identity theft. Personal information such as social security numbers, bank account numbers, or credit card numbers (other than a check or credit card authorization form PTO-2038 submitted for payment purposes) is never required by the USPTO to support a petition or an application. If this type of personal information is included in documents submitted to the USPTO, petitioners/applicants should consider redacting such personal information from the documents before submitting them to the USPTO. Petitioner/applicant is advised that the record of a patent application is available to the public after publication of the application (unless a non-publication request in compliance with 37 CFR 1.213(a) is made in the application) or issuance of a patent. Furthermore, the record from an abandoned application may also be available to the public if the application is referenced in a published application or an issued patent (see 37 CFR 1.14). Checks and credit card authorization forms PTO-2038 submitted for payment purposes are not retained in the application file and therefore are not publicly available.

PETITION FOR REVIVAL OF AN APPLICATION FOR PATENT
ABANDONED UNINTENTIONAL UNDER 37 CFR 1.137(a)

I respectfully request the US Patent office accept my petition to revive my patent application under unintentional.

It should be noted that the entire delay was unintentional, from the date the abandonment was discovered until the filing of my petitions have been completely unintentional. At no time, from the date of application, have I ever intentionally delayed any response to impede or interrupt the proceedings of my application.

As noted, I was completely unaware of any office action and related notice and have corrected the contact information on my application to receive all correspondence directly.

I respectfully request you continue proceedings on my application and/or forward any material requests necessary to do such.

Thank you.
